VICE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Spring

March marks the beginning of Spring, my favorite time of year. Those of us fortunate to live in Southern California are able to enjoy our Porsches and the “car hobby” year-round, but Spring is when things really come alive. There are car shows and “cruise-ins” practically every day, but Saturday morning seems to have the most. Cars and Coffee in San Clemente is probably the largest and the logical successor to the event in Irvine that lasted eight years and became world famous. Donut Derelicts in Huntington Beach is probably the oldest, highlighting Hot Rods and American Muscle cars. An excellent source is socialcarculture.com which lists many (but not all) automotive activities in the area. PCA activities also heat up with the weather. There are many to look forward to this year. The OCR Concours on June 13 is always a highlight of the Club year. This year, PCA's Parade is in La Quinta June 21 through 27. Parade is a wonderful event that combines all of the activities of PCA. Whatever is your preference you will find there. It includes Concours, Autocross, serious and fun rallies, excursions to points of interest in the area and other activities too numerous to mention. Parade also offers many opportunities for meeting and socializing with PCA members from all over the USA and Canada. I urge everyone who can to consider attending all or part of Parade this year. I appreciate the membership of OCR for voting for me as your new vice-president. I pledge to work hard to continue our Region's success. I plan to attend as many events as possible and to volunteer as much as I am able to do so.

Story by Bruce Herrington

THE 356 PORSCHE A Restorer's Guide to Authenticity IV

by Dr. B. Johnson, published December 2019
by Beeman Jorgensen, Indianapolis, IN

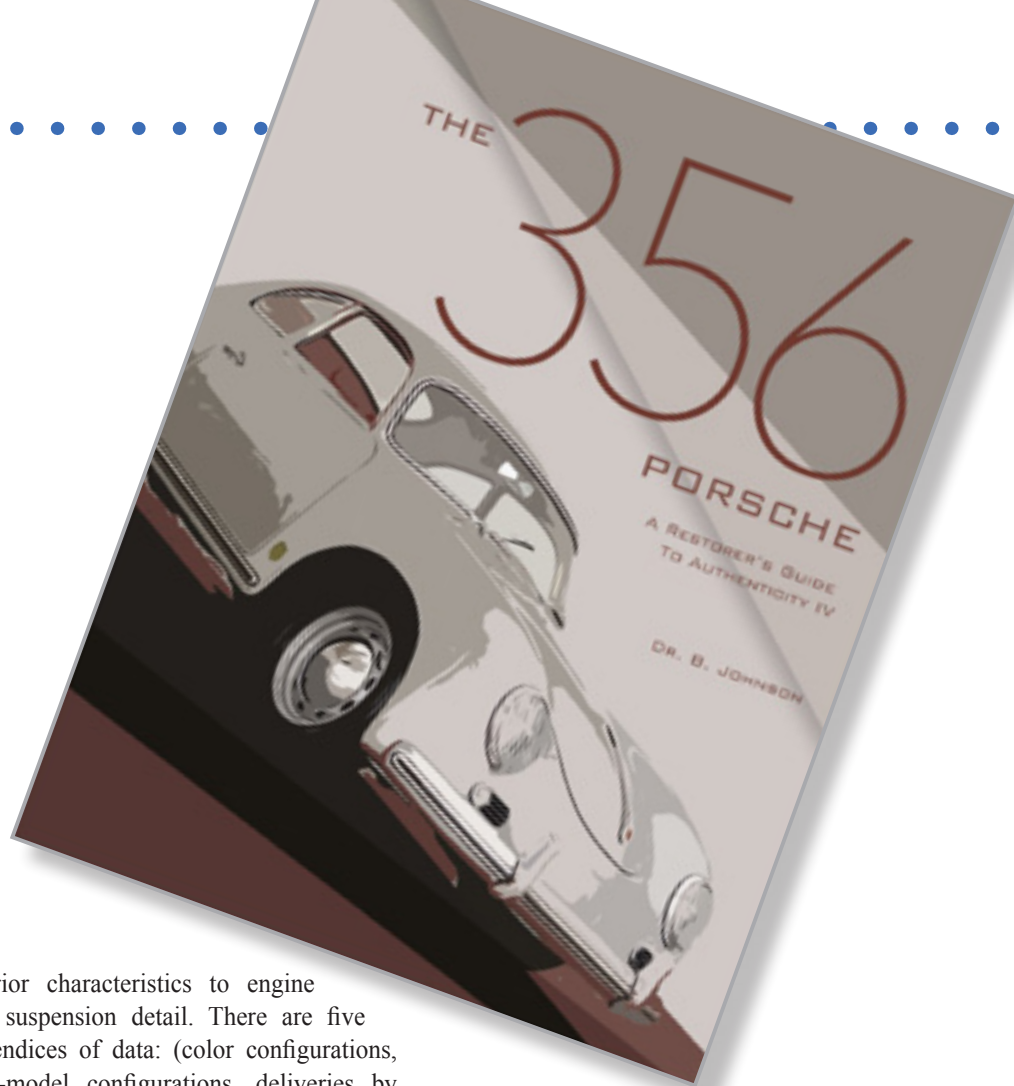

Do not be misled by the title, this is not a book just for restoration people – every 356 enthusiasts, owner or not, should have a copy of this book. Easy to read, profusely illustrated, extremely comprehensive, it can provide the enthusiast with vicarious ownership of a 356. By reading this book, an owner will develop a newly intense rapport with his 356. A 'paper back' for convenient easy reading in the garage, it is virtually coffee table size and its colorful illustrations will make great conversation starters at any cocktail party.

Brett Johnson produced the first Authenticity Guide in 1987. Since then he has been acknowledged as THE authority on what is and is not proper for a particular year, model, and even serial number of a Porsche 356. Fixation on what is 'authentic' is 'nitch' affliction, becoming more common because it has become a driver of market prices for these cars. Fixation on what is 'authentic' is an immense challenge because Porsche was developing components for its cars, continuously and did not let any 'old' parts go to waste when new parts became available. Perhaps even more problematic is the fact that cars were not always produced in serial number order. Once Brett got on the slippery slope of being "the oracle," he was able to collect an immense amount of detailed information, but was always under pressure to provide more and more precise detail. The result is his on-going series of authenticity guides, of which this is the latest, and with color illustrations, far and away the best.

There are eight chapters, generally ranging from a description of the overall exterior look of the models (PreA to C), then through interior characteristics to engine and suspension detail. There are five appendices of data: (color configurations, year-model configurations, deliveries by country, etc.). The Spotter's Guide provides an outstanding summary of features unique to the various year-models. There also is a very detailed index – windshield wipers are discussed on pages 73-74, 100-101, 130!

Many of the points of the text are illustrated with photographs, and/or copies of drawings from factory parts books and service manuals. It is a book easy to understand, as well as easy to read, with terse to-the-point sentences. It is detailed down to cross-sections of different windshield seals. After reading about the nitty gritty of differences in components by different body manufacturers of cars labeled the same model and year, the complexities of 356s are made almost overwhelmingly clear. There are many pages illustrating differences in badging, rear grill construction, even changes in door lock wall thickness, of which very few people, even 356 owners, are aware. It has been alleged that because they were 'made by hand', every one of the early 356s is different. While that is not exactly true, it can be said that because of ongoing development of detail components like knobs, handles, reflectors, lenses and bumper trim, etc., there may be a dozen different identifiable versions of the 356B! The outstanding Spotter's Guide appendix lists many of these running changes to 356 configurations.

THE 356 PORSCHE A Restorer's Guide to Authenticity IV will tell you more than you ever wanted to know about 356s. Some facts, like the identification of the five different types of horns will not be meaningful to many, even current owners. But this reviewer is confident that everyone interested in 356s, or even Porsches generally, will experience several WOW! or Ah Ha! moments when reading this book. Definitely a book for all 356 enthusiasts; no 356 owner should be without it.

Soft bound, with 238, 8-1/2 x 11-inch pages, most of which have multiple color pictures and B&W drawings. It should be available for $59.95 from your favorite bookseller (ask for it), or from QuartoKnows.com.

You Have a Winner!

Story by Monica Asbury

It started with an email from National's Vice President, Vu Nguyen . . . "You have a winner!" Do you know Jon Esparza? Who?

You have a member in your region who won second place in the Fall 2019 Raffle. The winner is the recipient of a 2020 718 Spyder and $25,000! WOW!

We needed to come up with an idea to surprise Jon. After a variety of failed attempts to meet up with Jon, it was decided a handful of us from the 4th Saturday of the month's "Porsches and Pancakes" gathering would meet in Irvine later in the afternoon, and 'parade' over to Jon's home in Lake Forest. Not sure who was more surprised when he wasn't home. A few more phone calls coerced Jon into coming back home under the pretense that a member wanted to see and ask him questions about his 914. Jon is also the owner of a 2019 911.

The 'surprise team' stood in the middle of his street, with balloons and a huge "WINNER'S" sign in tow, all the while neighbors peeking through their windows and stumbling onto their porches for a glance of what was going on?

Finally, while carefully strolling up the street in his SUV, Jon very slowly and cautiously rolled down his window – we yelled, 'are you Jon?' He acknowledged, 'yes,' and immediate bellows from the 'surprise team' of 'you won, you won,' hit the street waves! We 'borrowed' Nancy Wright's beautiful blue Boxster and parked it in his driveway as a teaser of what he just won.

After the big reveal, neighbors told us they thought we were Publisher's Clearing House. Jon thought someone in the neighborhood was celebrating a birthday!

CONGRATULATIONS Jon! Jon's been a member of PCA-OCR for approximately 1.3 years and purchased two raffle tickets! What a lucky guy. We are extremely happy for you and your good fortune!

RICE'S Ramblings

Story and Photos by Lee Rice

Cris Huergaus left us this January, and many of us miss him and his enthusiasm for the Porsche 911, the EARLY 911, especially the 911S. I met Cris a long time ago with my brother John Rice up 'Frisco way. We were running around town with me stuffed in the back of a 911 and us talking about the 911, and how could we get some other nuts like ourselves involved like the monthly get together at “easy” Porsche parts place.

Me, living in the O.C. and to out of touch to be that involved, but John knew Cris, who was a long-time friend. They did Porsche deals together but were mostly just good pals.

John became a “founding member” of what became the “R-GRUPPE.” Cris was the “Gruppe Meister” and well titled.

I came up one summer to do some upgrades on my brother’s lightweight 930 and do some customer servicing as well. Cris was the last 911 on my list as I wanted to take my time and really enjoy that job.

Tuning an early 911S, especially a high rpm one (1969-1971) is always interesting and what I remember now on servicing Cris’s 1969 911S. This was one of the very rare 911S, one that is the very first 911 with M.F.I. (Mechanical Fuel Injection) and this MFI is the same kind they used on the racing 906, 908, 917, 2.8 & 3.0 RS, RSR, and altered, it was used on the 935 turbos.

The M.F.I. injection pumps DEMAND exact tuning, as do the six individual air throttles and synchronizing them. It takes nearly a full day to completely do an MFI service and tune, but the difference from a 911 that is slightly “off song” to a tuned one done to the exact factory specification, is phenomenal.

After the job was done, John and I did the normal test drives including “W.O.T.” (Wide Open Throttle,) and it performed excellently.

Cris was quite happy with his new found power and sound of all six cylinders in tune, gloriously.

A few days later, John & I are driving over the ‘Bay Bridge’ to SFO. Just after leaving the Oakland toll booth we hear a nice sounding car engine, somewhere? Somebody is having a nice time I thought? What is that sound? It sounds like a 911 . . . an S! Then, that sound, again, a really GOOD sound!

Then getting ahead of traffic we still hear it up in 3rd gear, still pulling revs at I guess ½ to ¾ throttle, and I look from John’s passenger’s seat over to the left, and I see a small white car, a 911, no mistake there, and I think, CRIS? NO way!! That’s just too miraculous.

But as we moved over to the left in John’s 930, we see Cris oblivious to us but enjoying his new found W.O.T., and we were enjoying it too.

Finally, he sees us and we both ease off, pull alongside each other. I don’t remember what was yelled but I do remember his SMILE! You could have lit the whole Bay Bridge with that smile.

What is it about a 911, a machine we get to know so intimately? What brings these feelings and lasting memories? I can’t think about anything 911S, without thinking about Cris.

I’ll never forget, that week, that day, and Cris. Cris and his love for that 911S and the joy of driving it.

Amen friend, Godspeed

Time goes by so darn fast as you age. You young ones will chuckle as you do have all the time in the world. I know

I did and am still fairly healthy at 76 and drive my 911 hot rod as it is meant to be driven. However, things change. Some things change unavoidably as there are hardly any places to exercise a performance 911 as there once was. But we try!

Point is: DRIVE IT, use it, get it dirty, get miles on it, bank up the experiences, the memories, and the enjoyment of a machine that is the epitome of driving.

James Poste’s engine sits in my shop ready for installation when Jim’s arm heals from an injury, we’ll do a photo update on that.

Next month will be a new monthly: “TOOL OF THE MONTH,” and April will be a wheel-tire lift.
